THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE

In the world of wisdom, in the land of learning,
There grows a miraculous tree,
An everlasting tree for which some are yearning
To taste it and to see.

With fruit the tree will ever laden be,
It's bountiful to the sky;
And yet there's no waste on this tree,
For its fruits never die.

Some find the fruit the sweetest near or far;
Others taste it bitterly;
It all depends on who they are,
And what their ideals be.

Far reaching are this tree's roots
Into every land and sphere,
To get the nourishment for its fruits
And water, cool and clear.

This is a tree which all may find
But for which only a few are yearning,
But it's only necessary to have a mind
To enter the land of learning.

For this tree is the tree of knowledge,
And gems of wisdom are the fruits
Growing from the entire college
Of the learning of man as roots.

By new discoveries this tree is fed,
Watered by deep, clear thinking,
And thus it can never be dead,
Nor ever tire of drinking.

The fruit tastes bitter only to those showing
They do not want to learn;
All who are eager and desirous of knowing
May surely its sweet fruit earn.

TO THE SENIORS:

As an individual, you must realize your own well-being and that of your family, to whom you will be responsible, depends on your own efforts and preparation. Preparation involves continuous education and evaluation of your experiences. Effort involves initiative, desire, and extra man-hours of hard work. No one can give you well-being without taking away your identity as an individual.

Your parents and county have demonstrated this concept. I hope you will be men and women of similar stature.

DEAR SENIORS:

Five short years ago you were eighth graders. This was in the Fall of 1959, the year we started our fine Academy. Through the years, you have proved yourselves fine young gentlemen and fine young ladies. Your good work, excellent cooperation, and unselfish devotion to Prince Edward Academy will live on long after you have graduated. I am sure that the faculty joins me in wishing you all things that are good for the future years. Many of you will take different roads after you leave. May your roads be paved with health, happiness, and success. Now is the time for you to shoulder more responsibility and build a life worth living. This can be done only if you are devoted to your religious beliefs and have a high regard for the rights of your fellow man. Alone we accomplish nothing; together we can do anything. May the future years hold the best of everything for each of you.

CLASS HISTORY

The excitement in the air at the State Theater that hot September day in 1959 seemed almost tangible. The 400-odd students who had gathered there chattered excitedly. We wide-eyed Eighth Graders stood and watched as the privileged Seniors marched down the aisle and took their seats. The students seemed only partially aware of the significance of the events which had brought them together in this place. No other class of students had ever entered a high school under such conditions and with so much national attention focused upon them as did our Eighth Grade class.

As the omnipresent forms of television cameras ground away diligently, and alien newspaper reporters scribbled hurriedly, we heard the Mayor of our town and the Headmaster of our school remind us of the work and sacrifice being made by our parents in order to provide us with an education.

Although the classroom facilities were improvised that year, we made the best of the situation and considered it the beginning of a journey of many adventures. The first leg of our trip began as we started our classes for the coming year in the Wells House and the Presbyterian Church, under the guidance of our class sponsors, Mrs. Simkins, Mrs. Fleetwood, Miss Johnson, and Miss Minkel. Betty B. Smith represented the Eighth Grade in the Homecoming Court. As we looked back in June upon the road we had travelled that first year, we realized that we had gained confidence and assurance with which to begin the next year.

As we began our Freshman year, our campus expanded to include the old Telephone Building. We had now become fully accustomed to the speed of our travels. Celia Carter represented the Ninth Grade in the Homecoming Court. June Lancaster and Jimmy Putney won honorable mention in the State Latin Tournament. In June our class drew to a close another nine month league of our trip with mixed emotions. Our expectations of our Sophomore year in our newly-erected school building were clouded with sentimental feelings and fond memories of our two years spent in our temporary classroom.

Opening day in 1961 dawned over Prince Edward Academy with a burst of excitement. Our bright new buildings seemed a monument to the success of the daring ideas and continuing efforts of our community. It was on this, the third lap of our travels, that our new ship, the buildings of Prince Edward Academy, was christened in an inspiring dedication ceremony. The raising of the American and Virginia flags in front of the school by a unit of the National Guard was one of the most impressive of the day. State representative T. Coleman Andrews, in his address, inspired and encouraged everyone present. Our Sophomore sponsors, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Southall, and Mrs. Moore, led the class in choosing our pilots for the year. Taffy Farmer represented the Sophomore Class in the Homecoming Court of 1961. In June after having completed over half of our progress in learning, we gratefully accepted a three months' rest.

As our Junior year began in September 1962, we started taking our places of leadership in P.E.A. We were aware that this year would be one of our most difficult, yet rewarding years. And, indeed this proved to be true. To guide us in our looming endeavors were our sponsors, Mr. Austin, Miss Porter, Mr. Robeson, and Mrs. Wilson. Patsy Morton was chosen Junior Princess in the Homecoming.

We truly took a positive step toward the building of our future when we attended Career Day at Blackstone High School in November. In December, after an eternity of waiting, we received our shiny new class rings, a mark of the progress of the past three years as well as an omen of the success of the next two. To enrich our vast knowledge of American history, Dr. James Helms and Dr. Francis B. Simkins spoke to our class on two different occasions that year.

After numerous bake sales, scrap metal drives, and dances, we proud Juniors expanded our treasury adequately enough to finance our Junior-Senior Prom. The world we created, with our theme as "Teahouse of the August Moon", was one of enchantment. The entertainment was provided by Herbie Pulliam, of Appomattox, and Judy Baldwin and Betty B. Smith.

However, the year was not concluded. Tom Brooks and Betty B. Smith were given the Good Citizen Awards. Our class shone brightly at Radford when one of our number, Judy Baldwin, was elected Governor of Girls' State.

The last voyage of our trip began on a different note from that of our first. We were no longer inferior Eighth Graders. We were SENIORS - leaders of the student body. This time it was WE for whom the underclassmen had to rise. And, undeniably, there was a distinct note of sadness intermingled with excitement as we realized that this would be our last year at P.E.A. Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. Chavatel, and Miss Armistead, our sponsors, led the class until we elected our officers. Celia Carter was chosen Homecoming Queen while Betty Booker Smith was Maid of Honor.

During the latter part of the year we ordered graduation invitations and were measured for caps and gowns. Preparations were also made for the Senior Banquet to be held in May.

As we, the proud Class of '64, conclude our five years at P.E.A., we realize only too well that we are drawing to a close one of the most unforgettable and exciting journeys in our lives. We wish to express our gratitude to all the people who cheerfully gave of their time and effort so that we could work and study in the way which we believe. To our parents and teachers we say, "As we prepare to step into a separate world, we shall strive to succeed so that your efforts shall not have been in vain."

Last Will and Testament of the Class of '64

We the Class of Nineteen Hundred Sixty-four, being of sound and generous minds, do hereby will and bequeath our possessions to the following:

To the teachers and faculty of Prince Edward Academy we leave many warm, happy, and hectic memories of the past five years. We are convinced that, regardless of where life may lead us, the teachers we meet will never surpass or even equal, ours at P.E.A.

We feel particularly close to our Senior sponsors, who have worked so hard to help us successfully through this year, and to prepare us for the adult world and its responsibilities. In gratitude for their guidance during this year, we wish to leave each of them something to remember us by:

To MRS. DAHL we leave 500 volumes of famous Shakespearean quotations memorized and punctuated correctly by her brilliant English students.

To MRS. CHAVATEL we donate 500 copies of Time magazine with pictures of famous people on the covers. (Slightly altered or exaggerated to confuse government students.)

To MISS ARMISTEAD we leave a pinata filled with 500 deluxe color travel folders of Spain and Mexico.

To the Class of '65, we leave many challenges, particularly that of outdoing our Jr.-Sr. As they step up to the place we hope we have filled well, we wish them luck and success for the coming year, which will be for them, as it was for us, the happiest year of their lives.

To the great world, we proudly present, rather than leave, ourselves as the first complete product of P.E.A., since we entered the Academy as its first eighth graders.

Our own fellow students solemnly bequeath their treasured possessions to the following:

BILL BAGBY wills his mechanical ability to Stanley Part.

ANITA CAMPBELL wills her temper to Ann Melinda Riley.

JUDY BALDWIN wills her political ability to Graham Webster.

CELIA CARTER wills her beautiful hair to Sharon Dwyer.

TOM BROOKS wills his sexy smile to Art Field.

CAROL ANN CARWILE wills her Home-Ec. ability to Andy Andrews.

SALLY BROWN wills her breezy, Sunday-afternoon car rides to Nelson Johnson.

BELLE CHAPPELL leaves as usual -- with Bill.

ANN VICARS BRUCE wills her giggle to Joanna Blanton.

SAMMY COLEMAN wills his truck to Bitsy Glenn in case her Cadillac won't start.

AURELIA COVINGTON leaves P.E.A. to become a Wave.

EUGENIA COVINGTON wills her love letters to Mr. McCool.

NANCY DRUEN leaves us for Longwood where she hopes to finish driving Mr. Austin out of his mind.

TONE DEMUTH wills his gift for conversation to Kenneth Morgan.

BILL DOSS wills his judo handbook to Jimmy Hurt.

WAYNE FALLS wills his Bottle Gas Truck to Bill Burger to help carry groceries.

RENE FISHBURN leaves Shack to anyone tall enough to reach him.

CAROLYN GATES leaves her exclusive copy of "Highways and Byways of the Rice-Greenbay Area" to interested sightseers and tourists.

PEGGY GEE wills her effervescent personality to Ginny Hanbury. (Peggy has plenty to spare!)

BILLY FLOYD leaves his knack for breaking lights in Phys. Ed. while playing football to Nick Garrett.

WAYNE GEE wills his abilities in shop class to Tommy Pinelli.

KAY GILLIAM leaves her fun at confusing the teachers with May to Tommy Nixon.

MAY GILLIAM leaves her fun at confusing the teachers with Kay to Jimmy Nixon.

BETTY JO GATES wills her beautiful voice to Shorty Osborn.

LLOYD JOHNSON wills his guitar to Johnny Noel.

VICKY MARTIN leaves her job in "V.B.'s" store to Ruth Doyne.

DOTTIE JONES leaves her last minute worries (about English) in homeroom to Steve Brooks.

BEVERLY MACDONALD leaves her hair color book to Delores Abbitt.

MARY MOLNAR wills her love for rock and roll to Winston Stuart.

JUNE LANCASTER wills her study habits to Jamie Fleetwood.

PATSY MORTON wills her air-tight thermos to Bill Garland.

JIMMY PUTNEY wills his hidden harmonica talents to Columbia Records.

THEO LEDUC leaves his morning cruises with Mr. McCool to Julie Vale.

POLLY MOORE leaves her morning conversations with Charles to Patty Hay and J. J. Gay.

BILLY GILLS leaves all his undone homework to Glen Abernathy. (Glen will have to carry a trunk instead of his book-bag!)

HAROLD HARRIS wills his fun in Physics to next year's class.

PEGGY HODGES leaves P.E.A. to become an olympic sleigh-rider.

MARILYN GRESHAM wills her ability to be punctual to Anne Mull.

BURT HANBURY leaves his 'blade of grass' theory to any person (?) who will believe him.

MARTHA LEA HUBBARD wills her trips to Crewe to Del Hutch Watkins.

GLEN MORRIS wills his masculine charm to Billy Dickerson.

CHUCK PATTESON wills his blushing smile and knightly manners to Tom Fulcher.

HARRY JONES wills his collegiate hair cut to Billy Wright.

WILLIAM GOIN wills his gift for quietness to Dupuy Sears.

REBECCA PAULSON wills her love of shorthand to Eddie Kromer.

PATSY NELSON leaves her job as Mrs. Dahl's homeroom secretary to the next volunteer (?).

RAY NEVEL leaves his headaches over short desks to William Robertson.

SAM PUTNEY wills his slightly liberal political theories to Lucy Putney for obvious reasons.

MARY B. NEWMAN leaves an autographed picture of Jimmy Scott to Debra Mason.

SUE REECE leaves her typing ability to all of Mrs. Moore's and Mrs. Myers' over-worked pupils.

ALICE SHOWALTER wills her quiet manner and winning ways to Danny Andrews.

REBECCA SMITH leaves her shoulder length hair to Dama Carol Dowdy.

DIANE SIMONINI wills her dramatic ability to Carl Eubank.

MARGARET STOMBOCK leaves her petiteness to G. W. Lewis.

ROBERT JENKINS wills his Radio-Press Award to Alex Skidmore.

DANNY SIMPSON would leave his old green plimp, but it would break his heart.

LINDA STOKES leaves Murphy to the football team and keeps Bobby for herself.

MABEL THORPE leaves her friendly Phys. Ed. fights with Mrs. Southall to Anne Gray Brooks.

BETTY BOOKER SMITH wills her ballet talents to Earl Lamberth.

DIANA WALKER wills her nifty typewriter to anyone who can type without a space bar.
 SALLY WATKINS wills her proficient management of anything to David Hay.
 BARBARA JEAN YEATTS wills her broken fingers from volleyball to the lab.
 CONNIE ALLEN leaves her sense of humor to Bruce Noel.
 PARKIE WHITE wills his car payments to anyone with a steady income.
 JOHN WHITEMAN leaves his copy of "Red-heads and their Tempers" to George Clements.
 KATHERINE YANCEY wills her poetical ability to the Focus.
 JIMMY SCOTT wills his organ to Anne Marie Pearson.
 JANICE BRUCE wills her nurses uniform to Walter McKay.

The above possessions can be legally claimed by the fortunate heirs only under the condition that they use their inheritance to further the honor, glory, and good fun of Prince Edward Academy.

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF 1964

The Year 1984

Scene opens--Burt Hanbury is sitting on the sofa reading a newspaper. Bell rings---Celia Carter comes from off stage to answer door.

Tom Brooks: Well, howdy!

Celia: What a happy surprise! Come right in my little ole humble $200,000.00 mansion. Burt, Burt, come see who's here. (Burt rises, puts paper down and comes to door.)

Burt: If it isn't my old P.E.A. colleagues--Mr. & Mrs. Scott and Mr. & Mrs. Brooks!

Jimmy Scott: How are you this evening, Senator B. B.?

Burt: Fine, fine--you ladies have a seat on my superfine golden silk sofa, which I might add was a gift from old Barry up in D. C.

Tom: Mighty nice, mighty nice.

Celia: How are things back in Farmville?

Mary B. Newman: Well, different from when you left but still the same to us. The college has grown up to Grove and down to Main.

Patsy Morton: And P.E.A. has four new buildings, thanks to your most generous husband.

Burt: It was the least I could do to send the old school a couple hundred grand and besides, I get tax deductions on charity funds.

Celia: Speaking of the Academy, remember the good old days? It's been a long time. By the way, Patsy, have you heard from any of the cheerleaders?

Patsy: Well, you know I'm teaching second grade at the Academy and Peggy Gee is teaching in the Upper School. Oh! Judy Baldwin is working in the foreign embassy in France.

Mary B.: Carolyn's giving organ lessons at Longwood now.

Burt: How about the rest of the gang?

Mary B.: Since I've been working in the office at Longwood, I've run into quite a few of them. Ann Vickers Bruce is head of the language department now and Dione Simonini took her father's place as head of the English Department.

Jimmy: Mary Molnar is head librarian and Betty Jo Gates runs the History Department. Rebecca Paulson is head of Home Economics.

Burt: My, but we have a lot of HEADS in our class.

Patsy: Isn't one of the Gilliams the official infirmary nurse?

Mary B.: Kay is.

Celia: Didn't I hear something about May teaching algebra at P.E.A.?

Jimmy: Yes, she took Miss Porter's place.

Celia: I'll fix us a few drinks. (Celia excuses herself and leaves room.)

Tom: Oh, Burt, excuse me--"Senator," I hear that Danny Simpson is making plans to sell out Buffalo Shook Company to Doug Fitzgerald. Simpson has twenty some secretaries working full time to keep the business going. Mabel Thorpe and Anita Campbell are the head secretaries there.

Burt: Hasn't anyone gotten married?

Patsy: Well, Tom and I are married and Mary B. and Jimmy are married.

Burt: Huh!!!

Jimmy: As everyone expected, Wayne Falls and Diana Walker are married with five kids.

Mary B.: That's nothing, Nancy Druen and Boo have nine.

Patsy: You know that Linda Stokes and Bobby got married, I guess.

Burt: I flew to Hawaii for the weekend and who should I see greeting the passengers but Polly Moore. (Celia re-enters with tray of drinks.)

Burt: --and I stayed at the "Blue Hawaii" which is the most expensive. To my surprise I found that Theo Leduc is the Assistant Manager there.

Celia: (Serving drinks.) You'll never guess who was teaching golf lessons at the "Blue Hawaii," Glenn Morris and Billy Gills. And you'll never guess who was taking golf lessons there-- Barbara Jean Yeatts. She is the Social Director.

Tom: Speaking of coincidences, on the way up, Scott's Opel conked out so I caught a bus into Lynchburg which was driven by one of our classmates, William Goin. He directed me to go to the "Bagby, Nevel, Gee Speed Shop." Yep, Bill Bagby, Ray Nevel and Wayne Gee run the biggest service center in Lynchburg. While Wayne was driving me back to the Opel, he told me that they had just set up Harold Harris's Chevy. They say his is the fastest on the Stock Car track.

Burt: How about old Chuck Patteson? Did he ever finish school?

Mary B.: Yeah, he finished about seven or eight years ago and took over his father's practice in Farmville. He married Peggy as expected.

Patsy: I went in there just the other day and was greeted at the door by Avon Covington, his secretary. I sat down in the chair and while Chuck was checking my teeth, he was assisted by his nurse, Marilyn Gresham.

Celia: Are the Daiquiris still together?

Jimmy: Why certainly, we are under contract to play in Miami all this winter. Parkie White, our bass player, has been nominated for the Nobel Award for music, and Jimmy Putney still plays the sax with us in his spare time from his regular job as research physicist in partnership with his cousin, Sam Putney, U. Va.

Tom: Remember the captain of the football team, Robert Jenkins? He and Sammy Coleman have combined farms and now own the largest dairy farm in Rice.

Mary B.: Oh, you'll never guess who's writing books now!

Celia: I read about that. Isn't Lloyd Johnson's book on the best seller list now?

Patsy: I saw Alice Showalter downtown the other day and she said he writes a book every two months. She's his stenographer now.

Tom: Speaking of best sellers, Katherine Yancey's book "Care Of The Hair" just reached its climax.

Jimmy: It really is great to get together and talk about the old days. Oh, Burt, I know you haven't forgotten Harry Jones. He is now the Juvenile Judge of Prince Edward County. (Spills his drink) Oops, sorry, Burt.

Burt: Oh, no worry, we have the carpets changed every month--pure mink of course. The man who installs it is a big tycoon up in New York.

Celia: He said he married Connie Allen a few years ago and now they've got two sets of twins.

Mary B.: That's nothing, I heard Martha Lea Hubbard and Mac had triplets.

Jimmy: We've been visited by Janice Bruce.

Burt: What is Janice doing now?

Jimmy: She's a welfare worker in Farmville now.

Tom: Did you see where Sally Watkins is in the Congo as a missionary? She's living at the hospital where Rebecca Smith is head nurse and June Lancaster is a biological researcher.

Patsy: Remember Tone DeMuth who wanted to be a Forest Ranger? Well, he's got lots of forests to oversee now, the whole Congo.

Mary B.: The Army is there also. Patsy Nelson was just awarded the Fourth Star Commander Award in the WACs. She is really working above and beyond the call of duty.

Celia: You'll never guess who I saw last week when our $10,000 French poodle, Fifi, got stolen. I went to the F.B.I. and ran into several of our classmates. Sue Reese was the typist and behind her sat Belle Chappell working on an I.B.M. machine. While I explained the loss of Fifi, with the diamond collar, who should I hear roaring with laughter but Evelyn Hanna. She's secretary to Bill Doss. He runs the F.B.I. now, you know.

Tom: I was in Leggett's last week noticing the new stock of clothes and found out that Vicky Martin was the buyer for the company. When I went upstairs to pay my bill, Dottie Jones and Eugenia Covington were working in the office, in charge of customer accounts. Then on my way out, I saw Peggy Hodges. She's working part time there.

Jimmy: You knew that Rene Fishburne is medical technologist at the Medical College of Virginia, didn't you?

Celia: Why yes, I remember reading in the paper about her discovering a pill for the prevention of leukemia.

Mary B.: They say Billy Floyd and Sally Brown helped her a lot. You know they're science majors.

Celia: When Rene discovered the cause, Billy and Sally perfected the cure.

Jimmy: They say when the pill was given out it took Trooper John Whitman to keep things orderly and Carol Ann Carwile & Aurelia Covington to keep the files straight in the office.

Patsy: Well, Tom and I were there and guess who we bumped into?

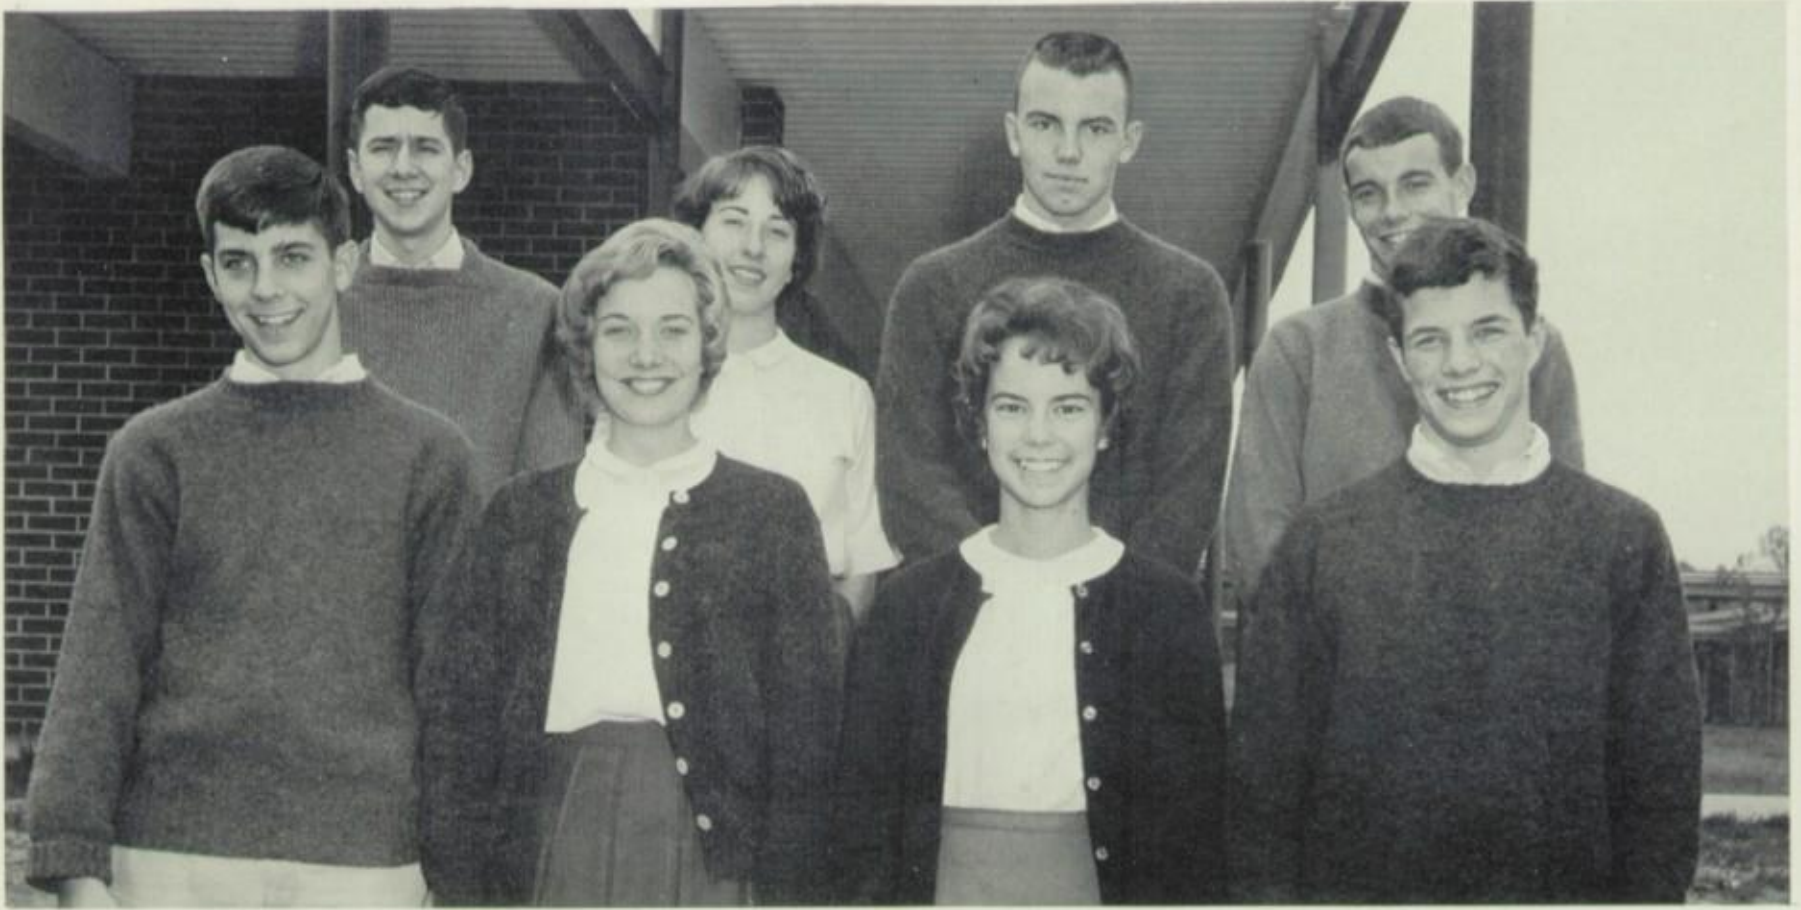

Burt: Who?

Patsy: Beverly McDonald and Margaret Stombeck. They're professional hair stylists. They have a fancy shop in Richmond.

Burt: Let's get our coats. I'm going to take you all downtown for dinner. Reservations won't be necessary as I own the controlling interest in several of the best restaurants in town.

Celia: That sounds fine, Burt, and we can find out what happened to the rest of the gang.

Our S.C.A.

Of S.C.A. every one is a part,
Though the student council serves as the "heart".

To always guide us in what we should do

Behind us we have our counselors
two.

As leaders, there are our officers five.

Now, here are the goals for which we strive.

To make each student a citizen true,
To foster leaders and scholars, too,
To help relations with every teacher,

To keep our sportsmanship from desk to bleacher,

To stand for good in every way,
These are the goals of our S.C.A.

To build teamwork and standards for all,

To prepare each for his future call,
To help each student's character
grow,

To develop the good from head to toe,

To strive for the best for P.E.A.,
This we pledge for our S.C.A.

TELL ME WHERE THE TIME HAS GONE

I am so sorry to find this year
Will soon be over, and that is clear
All of my friends will go their way,
Oh, how I wish that here I could stay!

Our P.E.A. is so very dear,
And to my heart 'twill always be near.
It matters not how far I go,
Here are my memories, and my tears will show.

How I will miss those football games,
Though I shall return, it won't be the same,
Soc-hops and rallies will fade away.
How I will wish I could return for one day!

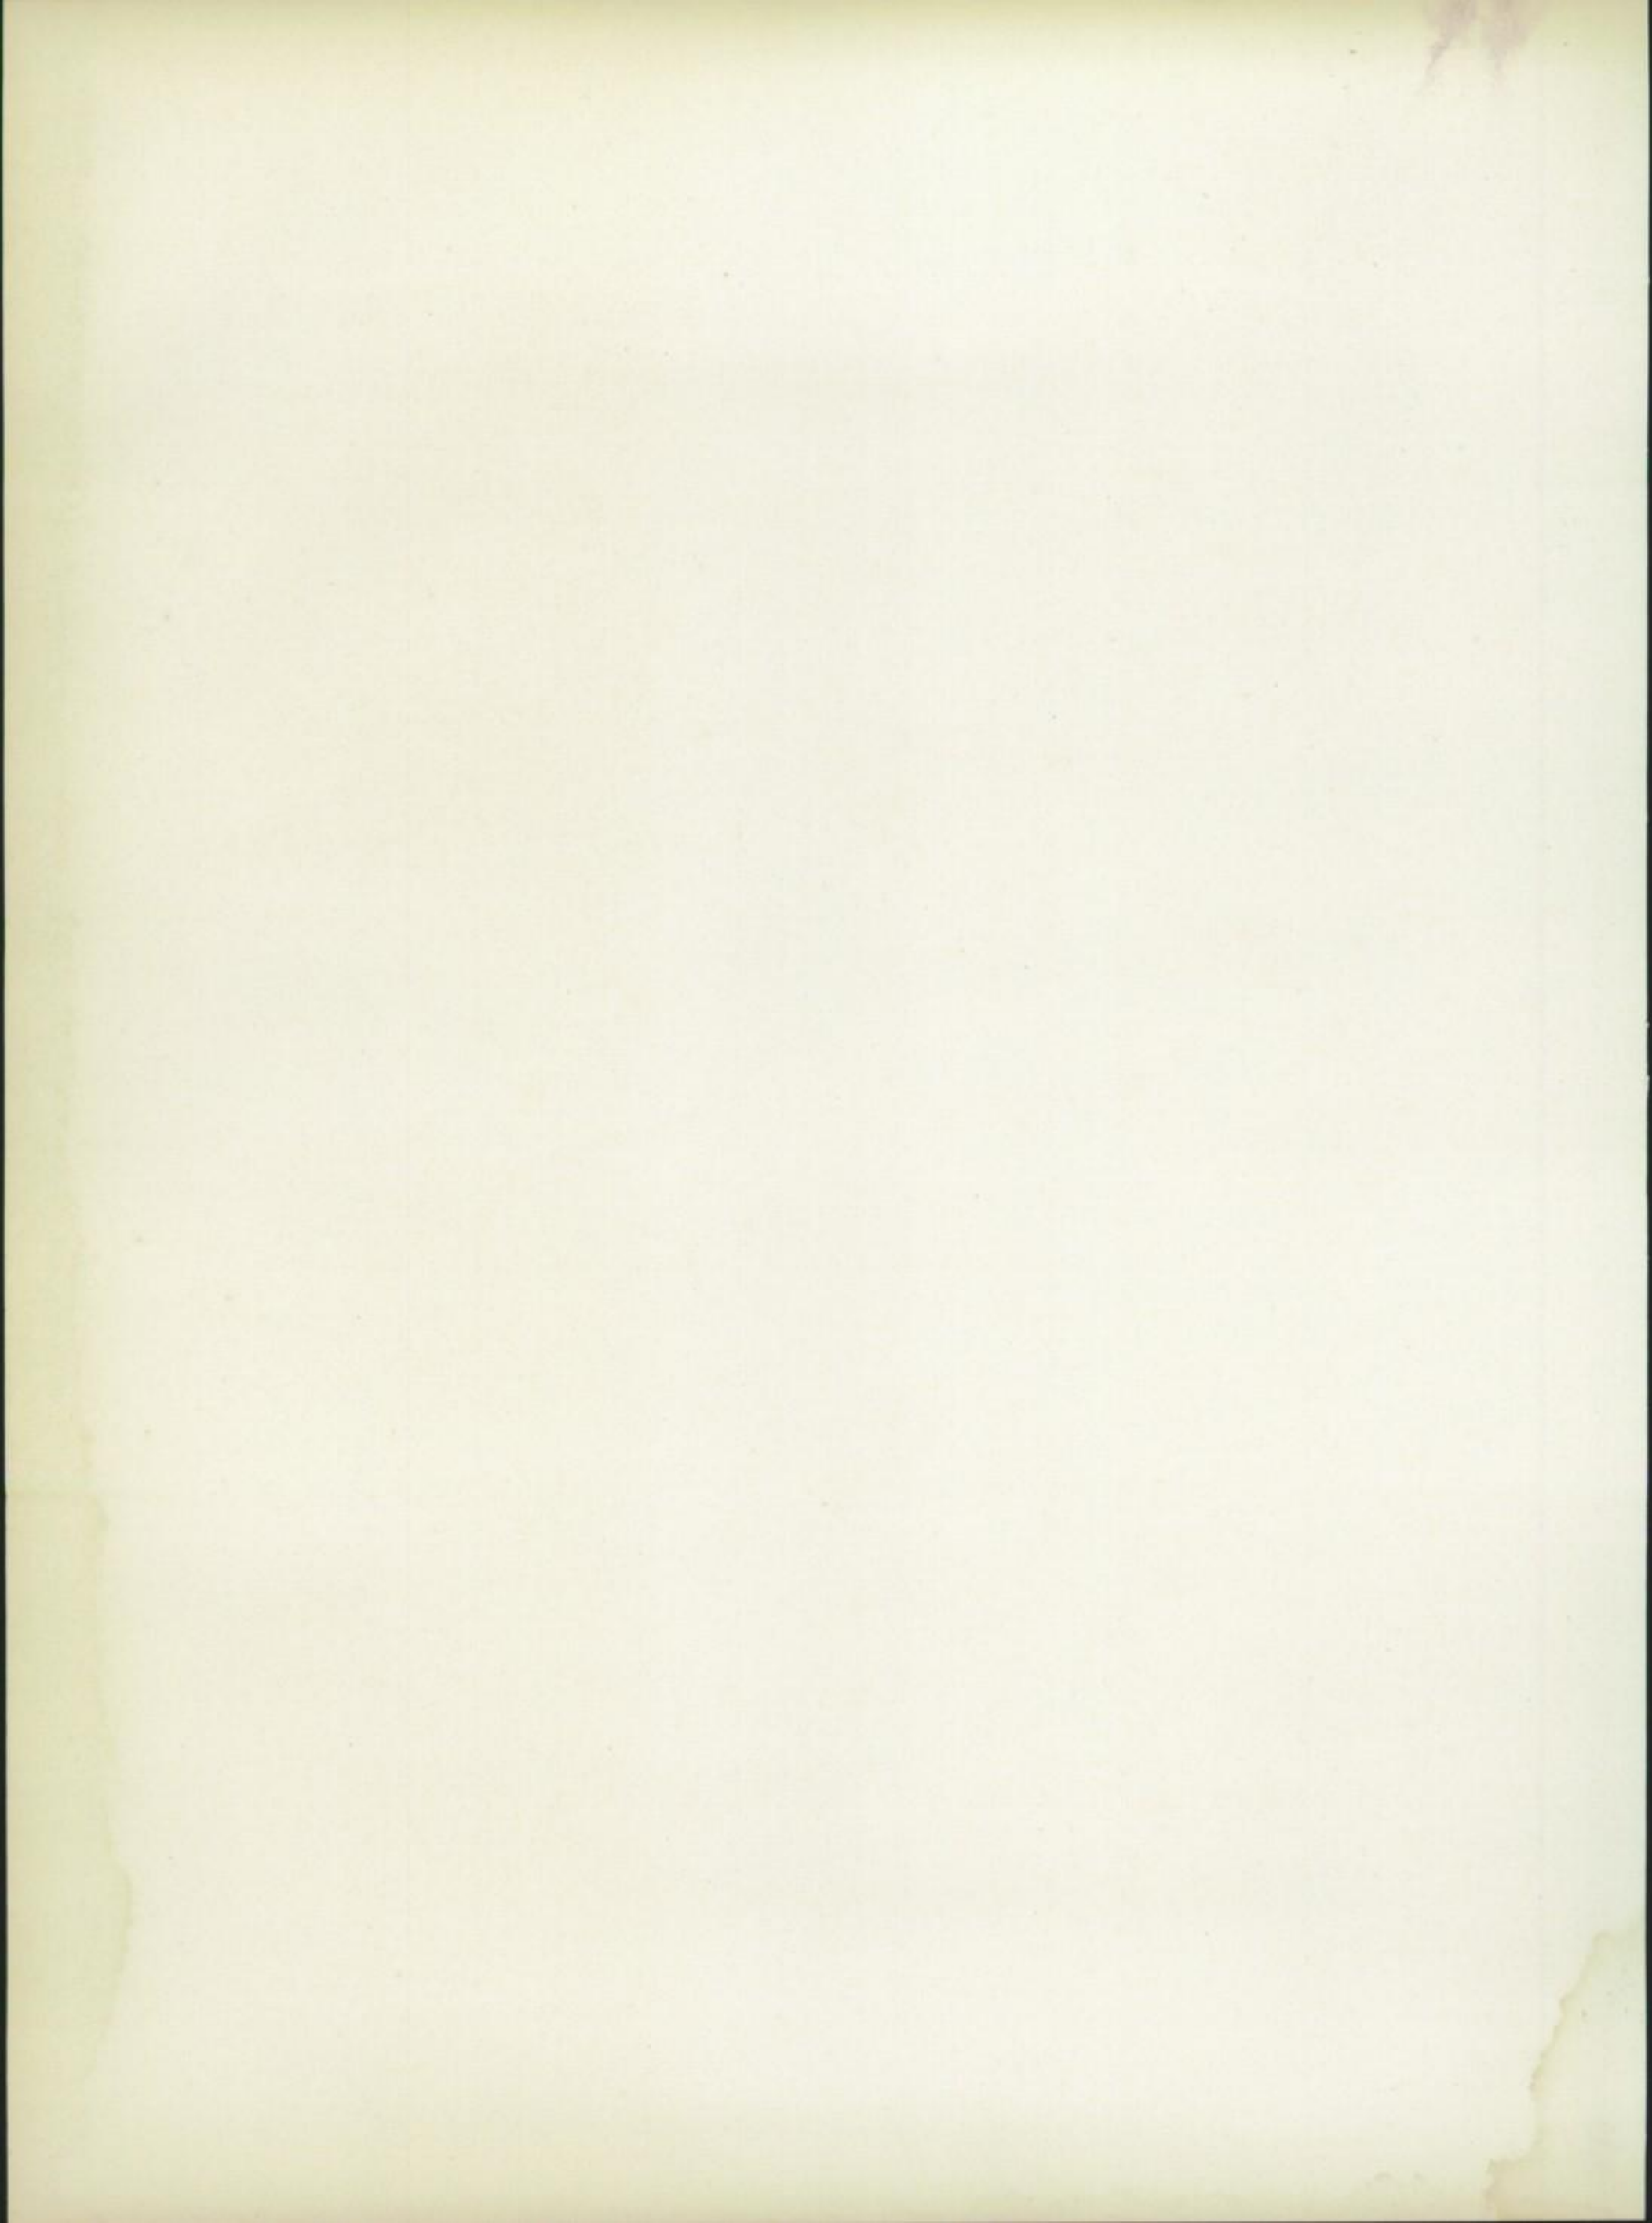

Oh, my heart longs when I hear them say
That sweet alma mater of old P.E.A.
And though graduation is drawing near,
I don't want to leave, I want to stay here.

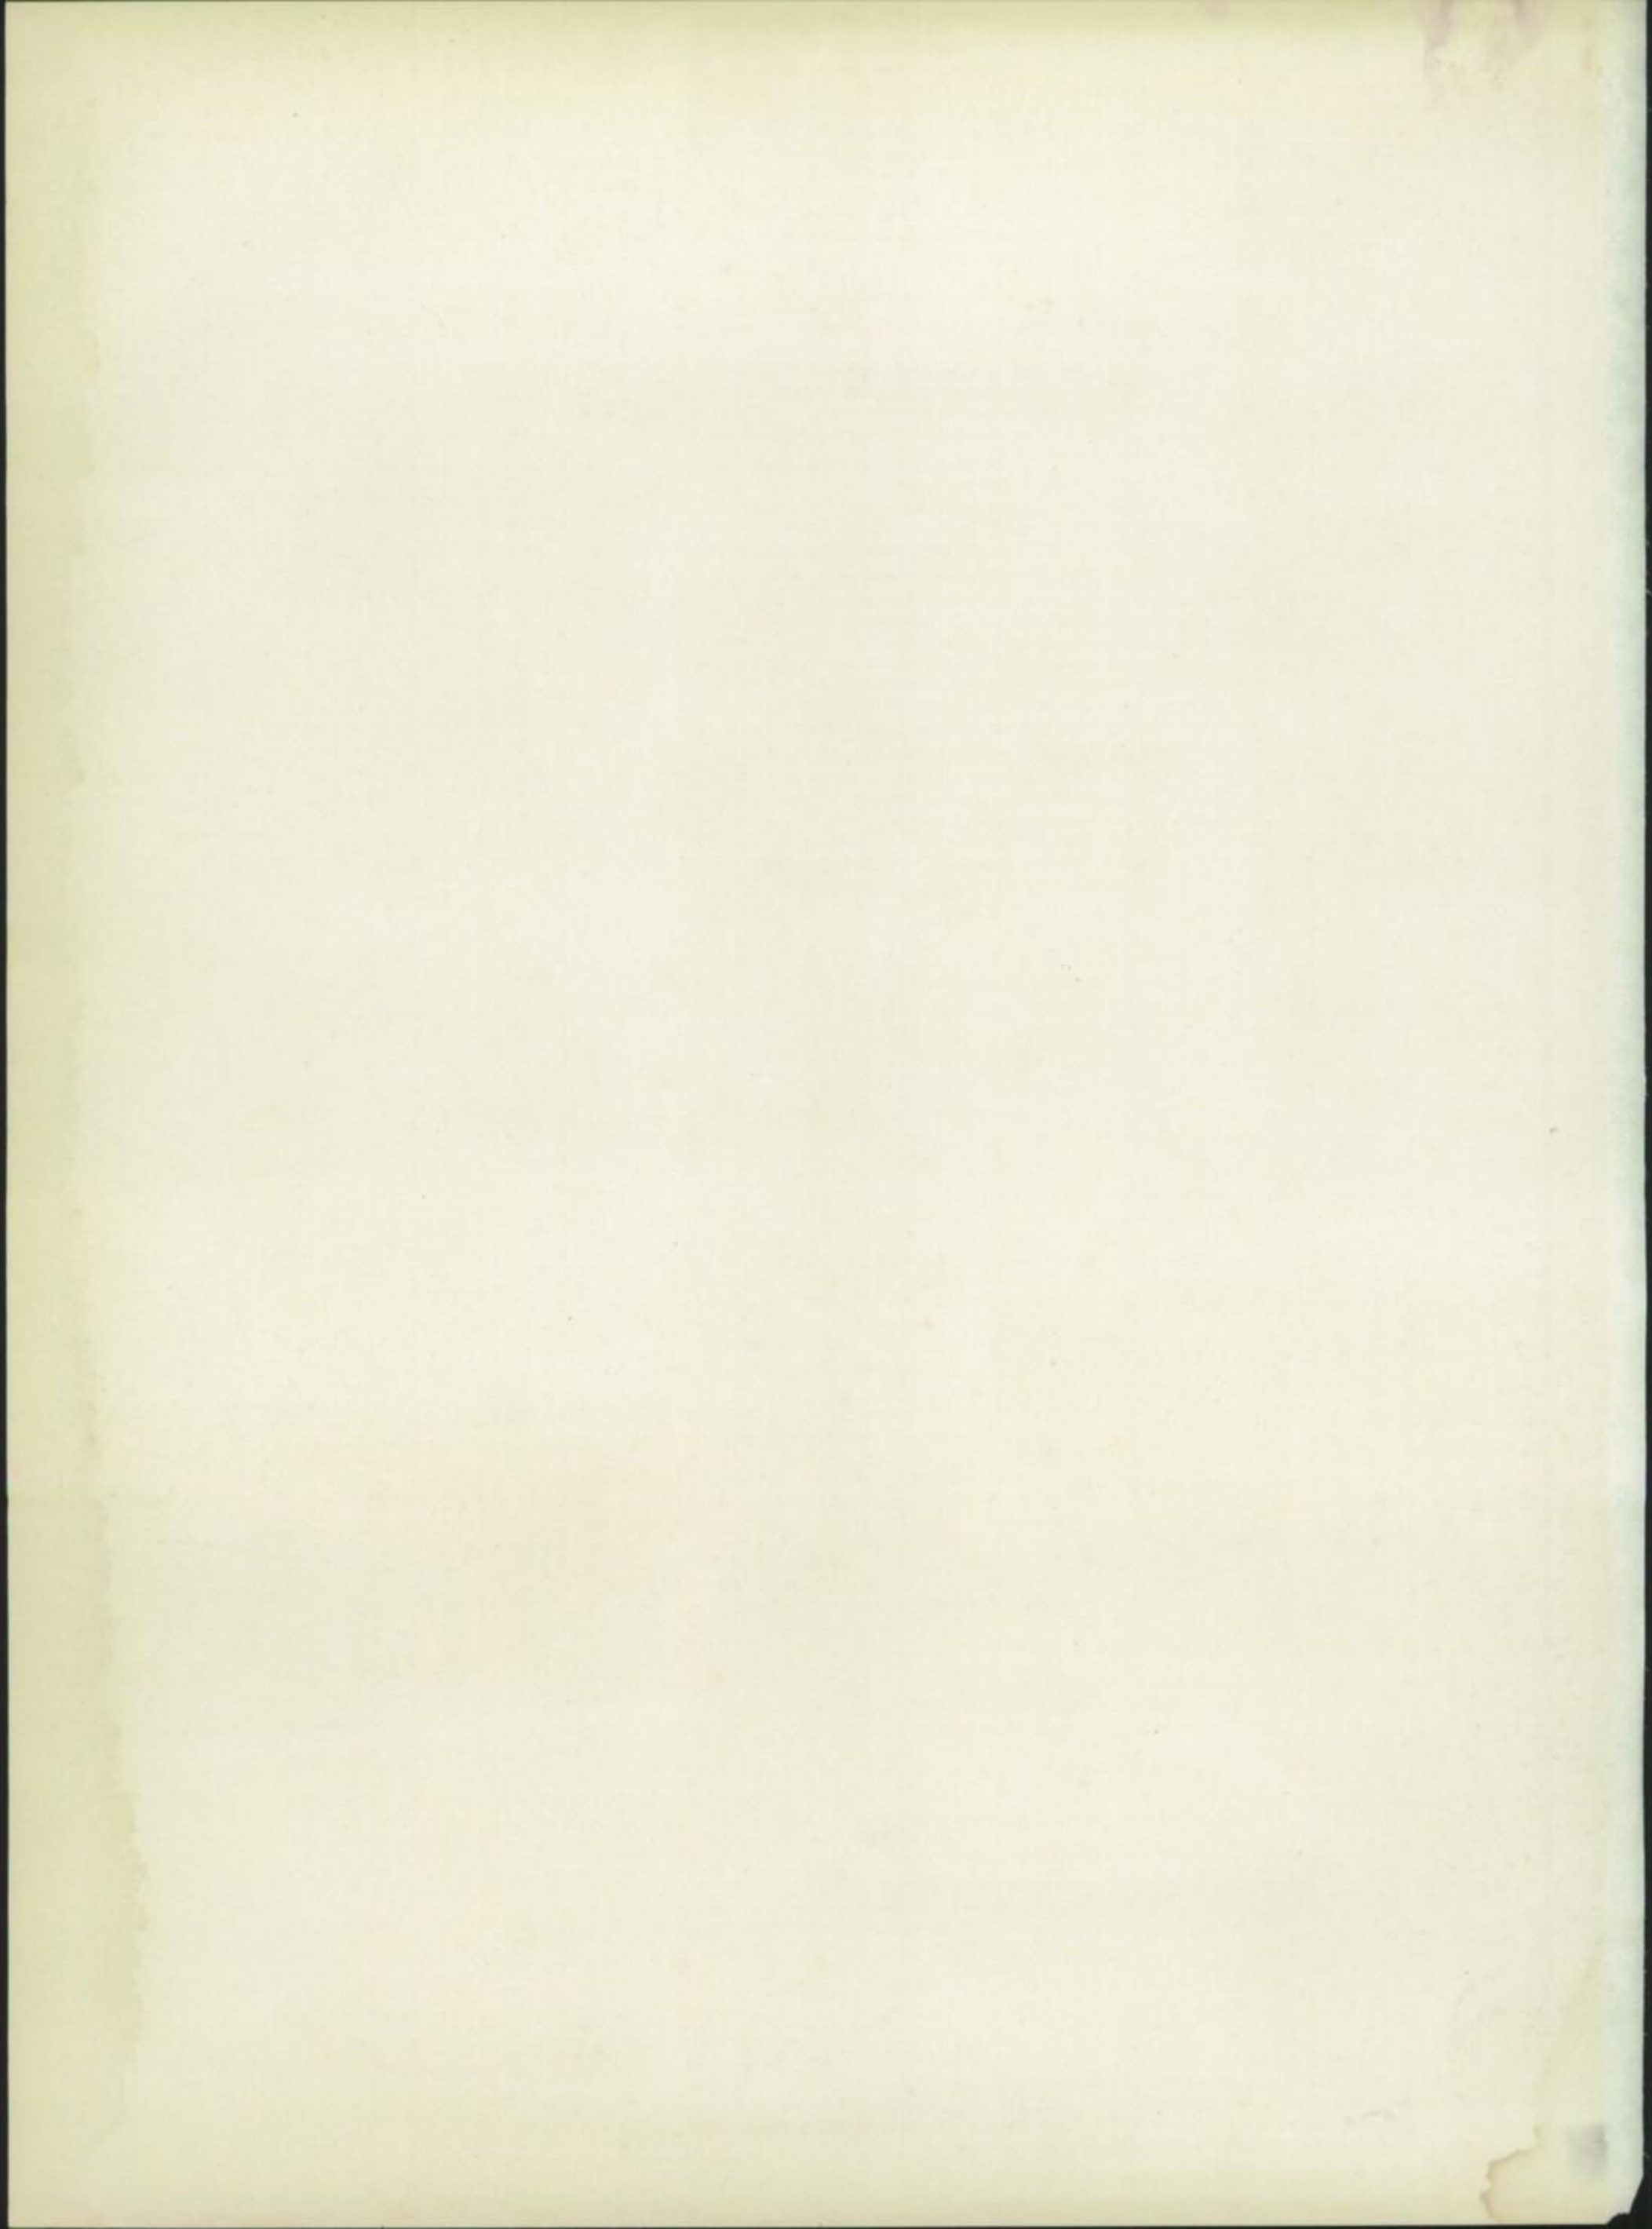

My days are made brighter by all of my friends;
It makes me so sad to know it must end.
I'll have to leave these rooms so dear,
Though deep in my heart, P.E.A. will stay near.
